FOR THE PATIENT WHO'S ALWAYS 'BELOW PAR'

For the patient who, following a serious illness, stays obstinately in the convalescent stage: for the neurasthenic, the dyspeptic, for the hundred and one ills due to starved nerves and under-nourishment, try a course of Numol.

Numol contains all the well-known body and nerve-building properties of lecithin, malted carbohydrates, proteins and hypophosphites, in carefully balanced and easily assimilable form. It is even more powerful than cod-liver oil as a health and energy-builder, with the added advantage of being palatable. Unlike many health foods it needs no preparation, but can be taken direct from the spoon, or mixed with beverages.

Its beneficial effects are most marked in protracted convalescence. It restores nervous energy and assists the enfeebled digestive system. Summer lassitude, debility, sleeplessness, and allied ailments of the nervous and digestive systems all benefit surprisingly from Numol.

Physicians who would like to try Numol, are asked to send a card, when a sample will gladly be sent to them.
