LONDON, W.C. 2.

THIS extremely interesting painting in the Royal College of Physicians is engraved in pure mezzotint by W. Jeans, and impressions taken from the plate in colours, perfect replicas of the picture. This picture is not only a record of one of the most important medical discoveries ever made, but a beautiful composition, both of colour and design, highly artistic and decorative.

The edition is strictly limited, signed artist proof state only.

Please write for full particulars to be sent you, also of the series of 100 Portraits of famous people.

"Dr. Harvey explaining to Charles I his theory of the Circulation of the Blood."
