WILLIAM HOGARTH, 1697-1764.

THE Museum Galleries have pleasure in publishing the second state of the plate "THE ARREST" following upon their last announcement of the first state of this, the above plate. It will be interesting for you to compare the two states and watch the progress made in the space of two months, of this the fourth plate. It will be noticed, as against the first state published in the last issue, how Mr. Stodart has filled in the different parts, and this filling is done entirely by the graver and is dry-point work, each separate dot being cut out and graduated as the work proceeds. The third state will be published as soon as sufficient progress has been made, and for those who are interested, miniatures in colour of the work taken from the original paintings, together with the prospectus, will be sent free on application, as soon as published.

You are cordially invited to visit the above Studios.

Plate IV. Second State.

WITHOUT OFFENCE

The Collection of Overdue Accounts

Extracts from two letters:

A MEMBER'S STATEMENT:—

"I enclose another batch of Ledger Cards for accounts which I should like you to collect. I trust that your skilful blend of tact, courtesy and firmness will produce as satisfactory results as heretofore."

A DEBTOR'S STATEMENT:—

"As regards the enclosed, I should have paid long ago had it not been for what I consider the very unprofessional procedure meted out to me by your new members. They got a man to call at my residence and leave offensive messages. I now enclose my cheque."
