

The Royal Society of Medicine Video Library of Surgery and Medicine

In association with the Royal College of Surgeons of England

- All videotapes produced under the direct supervision of The Royal Society of Medicine.
- Topics selected by an Editorial Board who combine expertise in surgery and medicine with substantial teaching experience.
- All surgical videos endorsed by the Royal College of Surgeons of England, assuring the educational soundness of content and approach.
- Demonstrations are by senior practitioners whose expertise is not widely available to students.
- Programmes concentrate on principles and procedures.
- Practitioners discuss potential problems and their solutions.
- Practitioners demonstrate techniques and suggest alternatives.
- Advanced camera techniques used for surgical programmes to give a substantially better view than a theatre observer can normally obtain — often even better than the view of the surgeon.
- Broadcast quality technical standards used throughout to give exceptional visual clarity.
- Full range of video formats available.
