

PUBLIC HEALTH

is celebrating its

1

th

In May of this year, the journal Public Health reached its 100th year of publication. The journal has changed dramatically since 1888, when it was only for sale in England and used much of its space to publish résumés of current public health literature.

Now Public Health is a truly international journal, offering its readers all over the world a balanced diet of original papers covering all aspects of preventive medicine, epidemiology, social and community medicine.

For the 100th anniversary issue, we have produced something rather special – a striking silver-bound issue which, in addition to the usual quota of original studies on public health matters, contains four specially commissioned papers looking back over various aspects of public health over the last 100 years.

METASTATIC SPREAD OF CANCER

G. V. Sherbet

A new approach to the analysis of the mechanisms of metastasis which compares the glioma, an intracranial tumour which ordinarily does not metastasise, to other metastasising tumour models. This produces a coherent picture of the operation of oncogenes and growth factors in the initiation, development and progression of neoplasms.

September 1987 228pp
Hardback £45.00 0 333 44362 4

ADVANCES IN UROLOGICAL ONCOLOGY

Volume 1 General Perspectives

Edited by Richard D. Williams, M.D.

This first volume in this new series includes comprehensive reviews of the most promising techniques in the diagnosis and treatment of cancers of the urinary tract.

The ten chapters cover oncogene expression and chromosome rearrangement, flow cytometry, tumour antigens, magnetic resonance and more.

CANCER IN THE NECK

Edited by David L. Larsen, Alando J. Ballantyne and Oscar M. Guillamondegui

Recent advances in the management of cancer in the neck have given way to increasingly sophisticated surgical, chemical, and radiotherapeutic techniques. In this important volume, internationally recognised authorities in all disciplines involved in the management of head and neck cancer provide a state-of-the-art reference on the appropriate treatment of various tumours that have metastasized to this region.

February 1987 304pp
Hardback £62.00 02.367760.0

EXTRACRANIAL CEREBROVASCULAR DISEASE

Edited by Francis Robicsek

A multi-contributor volume which reviews in detail the state-of-the-art in diagnosis of and the surgical and medical management of patients with extracranial cerebrovascular disease. Within this 30-chapter volume, surgical techniques are detailed, with emphasis given to current invasive and non-invasive diagnostic methods, anesthesia and post-treatment follow up.

April 1987 648pp
Hardback £70.00 02.402540.2

SURGICAL LASERS A CLINICAL GUIDE

Edited by Terry A. Fuller

A complete, up-to-date reference on the practical clinical applications of lasers as surgical tools.
