Postgraduate Medical Journal is a peer reviewed journal published on behalf of the Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine. The journal aims to support junior doctors and their teachers and contribute to the continuing professional development of all doctors by publishing papers on a wide range of topics relevant to the practising clinician and teacher. Papers published include those that focus on core competencies; that describe current practice and new developments in all branches of medicine; that describe relevance and impact of translational research on clinical practice; that provide background relevant to examinations and medical education and medical education research. The PMJ supports CPD by providing the opportunity for doctors to publish many types of articles including original clinical research; reviews; quality improvement reports; editorials; and correspondence on clinical matters.

The Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine

The Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine was founded after the First World War and was a pioneer in the UK in the development of programmes of postgraduate study in all branches of medicine. It is, and always has been, independent of universities, the health service and government. The Fellowship does not give personal grants for educational purposes or research. It achieves its objectives through publishing the Postgraduate Medical Journal and sponsoring national postgraduate education programmes. Further details can be obtained from the Executive Secretary, Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine, 12 Chandos Street, London W1G 9DR, UK; <http://thefpm.co.uk>. The Fellowship is a registered charity.
